

TERRY MCKEE

Terry has 34 years' experience in public procurement including Knox County, Knox County Schools and at Knoxville's Community Development Corporation-the Public Housing Authority and Redevelopment Authority for Knoxville & Knox County. Terry has also served as a consultant for the National Institute of Governmental Procurement since 1995 and serviced clients across the United States and Canada.

Terry holds a bachelors' degree from Alderson Broaddus University (Education and Political Science) and a Master's degree in Public Administration from the University of Tennessee. Recently Terry was named a "Fellow" of UT's MPPA program for his contributions to public administration and to the MPPA program.

Terry has served the public procurement profession on numerous national, state and local committees as well as service on various Global Best Practices and other ad hoc committees. Terry has earned several recognitions including ETPA's Purchasing Professional of the Year in 1993 and Purchasing Manager of the Year in 2016. He received NIGP's "Spirit of NIGP" award in 2013. He was awarded NIGP's "Purchasing Manager of the Year" honor in 2017. In 2022 NIGP honored Terry with the Distinguished Service Award.

Terry resides in Rockford, Tennessee with his wife Nancy. They have two children: Rachel McKee and Ian McKee along with their daughter in law Lindsey McKee.